

Colds often hang on. You try this thing and that thing, every kind of home remedy and cheap cough mixtures, and yet your cold continues to hang on. You must not deal lightly with these old colds. You must get rid of them just as soon as possible. You must take something to break their hold.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

soothes irritable throats, heals inflamed bronchial tubes, and quiets congestion in the lungs. This is why it so quickly controls these old coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. "I was troubled with a very hard cough which I could not get rid of. When I read of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I sent to Johannesburg and procured a bottle. It completely cured me, and I have many comrades here who have had hard coughs cured in the same way." — W. S. Sissons, Company C, Second Royal Berks Reg., Nel's Spruit, Transvaal, S. Africa. There are many substitutes and imitations. Beware of them! Be sure you get Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Two sizes. Large and small bottles. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

MAUNA ALA STRIKES LOG

Bark Thirty Days on Her Voyage to Coast.

Lucky That She Makes Port So Badly Crippled.

Supply of Water Gives Out and Food Ration Almost Gone.

It seems that the bark Mauna Ala, which reached San Francisco from this port on February 23d, after a strenuous passage lasting thirty days, had all that she could do to make port at all. In fact, if the bark had not been strongly constructed, she would in all probability have been at the bottom of the sea by this time.

The Mauna Ala left here on January 24th, with 16,445 bags of sugar on board. She had fair wind and fine weather for the first two days out of this port. Then, when she was bowling along with every sail drawing, she struck a floating log with a shock that shook her to her keelson, and at once commenced to leak badly. Also, the weather began to get bad and for nine days great seas swept over and the timbers of the bark, already injured by the collision with the log, were so strained that the vessel began leaking at the rate of about two inches an hour. From that time on, though the bad weather finally blew itself out, it was a fight to keep the ship afloat—a long and a hard fight.

Crippled as she was, the Mauna Ala finally got into port with all her supply of fresh water gone and with her crew on short rations. It is reported, however, that her cargo was not damaged by the leak. It was a severe task, but the sea water was kept down by the pumps.

SIBERIA MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

It is just possible that the big Pacific Mail liner Siberia will not get away from San Francisco on schedule time, March 11. The San Francisco Chronicle of February 25, which was the latest paper in the files received here yesterday, has this:

"The heavy fog that hung over the bay early yesterday was responsible for only one accident, so far as reported. The freight boat Transit, plying between Oakland and the Second-street slip, struck the big steamer Siberia, at the Mahi dock; breaking a part of the liner's after rail, making a dent in her stern plates and apparently, striking her propeller. The Transit herself was apparently not injured."

The Siberia had been for some days prior to being in collision with the Transit in the hands of a large force of men who were getting her ready for her trip across the Pacific. Among other changes being made, the stowage of her was being fitted with accommodations for 1250 Chinese. Evidently, it was intended that the steamer should go largely into the business of carrying coolies.

Shipping Notes.

The bark Kailua and the schooner Alpena got to sea yesterday. The Forest Home has completed her new suit of sails and will probably get away for San Francisco Sunday.

It now seems more than likely that Louis Samuels, the negro cook who disappeared from the schooner Forest Home last Monday night, fell overboard and was drowned.

The big ship George Curtis was towed over to the Inter-Island wharf yesterday morning to take the sugar cargo of the Mauna Ala. After she had got it, she was taken back to her berth at the Railway wharf.

The old missionary barkentine Morning Star, now owned by H. Liebes & Co., of San Francisco, is being sheathed with Australian gum wood and having her bow strengthened with iron plates in the dry dock at San Francisco preparatory to a whaling cruise in the Arctic.

It is expected that the old Norwegian bark Andromeda, recently repaired temporarily at this port for a voyage to San Francisco, where she will be permanently rigged, will get an American register as a result of the work to be done upon her there. The Andromeda was sold as a wreck for $4,000, and at that rate her new owners only have to spend $12,000 in repairs to get her under the American flag. That would seem to be easy, considering the state of the vessel.

Cures Colds at Once

During the last year more sufferers from colds, whether in the head or lungs, have been cured by Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine than all the other medicines combined.

What is the use of wasting words and suffering with a cold when you can get relief within two minutes time after taking Halpruner's?

People who know the value of Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine never have colds any more—they keep this remarkable medicine in their home, where they can get it as quickly as soon as they feel the first symptoms of cold. For a cold in the head they inhale the vapor by pouring a few drops of the medicine in their hands and holding them beneath the nostrils—also taking a teaspoonful every hour or so. The inhalations give immediate relief and the internal dose drives out the cold and the cause of it.

If the cold is in the throat or lungs they rub the medicine in until they know it has penetrated deeply and is doing the work it was intended to do. Internal doses are also good for a cold in the throat and lungs, for Halpruner's seeks the seat of the trouble and removes the causes quickly and permanently.

All druggists sell Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine—50c and $1 a bottle. If you find one who does not ask him to get it for you. If he will not get it and tries to talk you out of it go to the next drug store and demand the genuine
